How to Forever Re-Watch Your Dreams

Farmville, VA- A device that records and replays dreams was announced yesterday by the company Dream Catcher.

“The Dream Catcher has changed the way I live my everyday life” said the company president Sadie Richardson in the first launch of the product and company Dream Catcher. “Using the Dream Catcher has allowed me to understand more about myself.”

The Dream Catcher uses a new technology that examines your brain waves as you sleep. To do this a small electrode is stuck behind both ears and worn while you sleep. These electrodes are connected to a phone which downloads all of the information to the Dream Catcher app.

Once the data has been downloaded you can watch your dreams in high definition as many times as you would like. “I have struggled with nightmares my whole life and the Dream Catcher has allowed me to examine and understand these dreams” said Joan Smith, who helped test the product.

For the best proficiency the Dream Catcher should be worn when experiencing REM sleep, this is when the most intense dreams occur. REM sleep happens throughout a sleep cycle so the Dream Catcher should be worn the entire time.

The Dream Catcher is available to be ordered from our website and it is a one-time purchase $50. This includes a 3-month free subscription to the Dream Catcher app, all of the needed electrodes and their accessories, and a limited Dream Catcher carrying case.

“I recently lost my mom, after this I began having very vivid dreams of her. The Dream Catcher has been an amazing tool in keeping my memory of my mom alive” said Jodie Preston who helped test the product.

The Dream Catcher is offering a 15% discount to the first 150 customers who buy the product from our website at TheDreamCatcher.com.
