FINDING YOUR LIFELONG COMPANION

November 6, 2018- FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Lifetime help with chores just announced!

Wall Street, NY- One of the most highly innovated dogs was just released to local stores this morning by the NBS Company.

Most working mothers have limited time to spend with their children after getting home from work because their job never ends. “Being busy all the time and now having an extra pair of hands or paws to help out has made my life so much easier!” said one of our pleased customers. When mothers get home, they have a list of tasks to complete before they can relax and enjoy time with their family.

Introducing the Nano Bot, a high-tech, mechanical dog was just recently invented and introduced to all NBS Company stores worldwide. This high-tech dog was designed with hard working mothers in mind because it will complete daily household tasks that fall upon the mother.

As a company, we put the utmost value on quality. Which is why Nano Bot was created with the finest renovated tech materials to last a lifetime. By purchasing a Nano Bot, not only will you gain the support to help make your life easier but a faithful companion to have with you wherever you go and create treasured memories that will last an eternity.

For a limited time offer we are providing a promo code to receive 50% off the purchase of a Nano Bot. Don't wait! The offer will not last long and the product is going fast!
