New nutrition promoting appliance announced

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—A motivational refrigerator called Fit Fridge was announced this morning by Motivational Manufacturers & Company.

“The problem had been staring me in the face for years,” remarked CEO of Motivational Manufacturers & Co. Nicole Brown. “My fridge was what was preventing me from reaching my weight loss goals!”

Fit Fridge has some of the newest technological advancements. Cameras on the door and weight sensors on each shelf work together to track how much and what you are eating.

Unlike other nutrition promoting technology, Fit Fridge works directly with the source of where diets fail most - your refrigerator. The innovative appliance pairs with any nutrition app via bluetooth and locks once you have reached your daily calorie count.

Fit Fridge’s settings can be customized to your goals. Whether you want to lose weight, gain weight, or even maintain your weight, Fit Fridge can help you follow your diet plan. When you stay on track, Fit Fridge notifies you with motivational quotes and beautiful images on it’s 4k display.

“I’ve tried dieting programs before and none of them compare to Fit Fridge” a happy customer commented in a review. “I love how my fridge motivates me to better my health and stay on track! It makes dieting simple.”

The first 100 people to purchase Fit Fridge will receive 20% off their order and a waived delivery fee.
